Telephonic Court Appearances

NEWS RELEASE

COURTCALL'S REVENUE-SHARING PROGRAM: AN ADDED BENEFIT FOR COURTS

Los Angeles, Feb 23, 2010 -- CourtCall's telephonic court appearance program offers a sensible solution that benefits all legal professionals during these times of financial uncertainty.

On top of the already well-known cost cutting and time saving benefits for lawyers and Judges, CourtCall offers a revenue sharing program for all participating courts. Each court has the potential to receive a fixed payment for each CourtCall Appearance. CourtCall has already shared millions of dollars with courts, some of which have been participating in the revenue sharing program for over ten years!

During an economic downturn, it is no secret that most people try to cut costs or save money whenever possible and the legal system is no exception. For years, CourtCall has provided Judges and courts with an effective means of reducing overall operating costs. CourtCall equips cash-strapped courts with a state-of-the-art turnkey teleconferencing system, consisting of highly advanced speakerphone technology, proven scheduling/operating methods and a full customer support team. Foot traffic to the court is reduced and court staff members are able to focus their efforts on something other than scheduling and managing the court's telephonic calendar. The revenue sharing program is simply an additional perk to the courts, adding to the already numerous benefits of the CourtCall program. By simply streamlining the litigation process with CourtCall, courts can save money and increase funding. It's a win-win situation.

Like courts, attorneys benefit greatly from using CourtCall. Each day, lawyers make brief appearances that may not actually require their physical presence in the courtroom. The rising costs of appearing in person, whether the trip is across town or across the country, are staggering. With CourtCall, lawyers can waste less time traveling to and from court, thus raising their own productivity and saving their clients money.

By using the CourtCall program, courts and attorneys can work together to help the environment, as well. Since its inception in 1995, CourtCall has eliminated over 3,000,000 unnecessary car trips, preventing nearly 37,500 metric tons of CO2 from polluting the air. A metric ton, for the sake of visualization, weighs about 2,200 pounds and encompasses roughly 19,683 cubic feet. At a very top-line level, that is over 82 million pounds and 738 million cubic feet of CO2 that CourtCall has helped eliminate from our planet. As the legal field continues to advance during the 21st Century, CourtCall remains the smart (and green!) choice to help save time and money.
